Cast Your Vote For the Anti-War Candidates!

The workers of the two New York boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx have an exceptional opportunity of making a choice between throwing away their votes in the coming municipal election or of making effective use of

To vote for the Republican or the Democratic parties, is to throw away your vote. It means giving your suffrage to enemies of your class to use for their own purposeswhich are not yours; to use for their own interests-which

By voting for the ticket of either of these parties, you stand a bigger chance of electing your candidate—only he won't be YOUR candidate. You will have given your vote to the candidate of the bosses, the boodlers, the war-mongers, the strike-breakers, the protectors of the fascists, the protectors of profit and exploitation.

You will be throwing away your vote just as surely as if you threw it down the sewer.

To vote for the ticket of the Communist Party, is to throw away your vote. You will be voting for as corrupt, as reactionary and as unscrupulous a gang as ever cursed the labor movement. You will be voting for the spokesmen and attorneys of the Hitler-Stalin Pact. You will be voting to endorse the murderous tyrants of the Kremlin, for whom Browder and Co. function as agents in this country. You will be voting for people whose last thought is the labor movement, or its interests, people who are concerned only with the interests of their employers, the Stalinist

But if you don't want to throw away your vote, if you want it to mean something, if your interests go beyond getting this or that individual into this or that office,

Vote for the candidates of the Socialist Workers Party! These candidates stand firmly committed to the program of their party.

It is the party which first organized and carried through the imposing action against the Nazis and Fascists in New York-the workers' counter-demonstration at Madison Square Garden. It is the party of struggle against fascism.

It is the only party that stands unambiguously and consistently in opposition to the Second World War and against the United States entering it.

It is the party not of despair, of exploitation, of misery and war-but the party of hope. It's the party of hope because it's the party of socialism!

Workers of New York!

Vote everywhere for the candidates of the American Labor Party-not because of its leadership, but in spite of it; not because of its wishy-washy, milk and water program, but in spite of it. Vote the A.L.P. ticket because it is the ticket of the organized labor movement of New York. Workers of Manhattan and the Bronx!

Vote the ticket of the American Labor Party, but-GIVE YOUR NUMBER ONE VOTE ON THE BALLOT TO THE COUNCILMANIC CANDIDATES OF THE SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY!

Roll up a tremendous vote for the S.W.P. candidates Let the ruling class see that there are thousands of workers, who stand by its program of struggle against war and fascism and exploitation! Make your vote mean something.

On Monday of this week, debate opened in the Senate on Roosevelt's war-promoting "Neutrality Act", with Senator Pittman leading off for the Administration, and the veteran Borah of Idaho sounding the keynote for the opponents of repeal of the arms embargo.

The two Senators, each a skillful parliamentarian, succeeded ably in exposing each other's position; and together they combined to hide from the public the real kernel of the embargo issue.

After Pittman had pointed out that an embargo merely on arms and munitions, with no restrictions on the shipment of secondary war materials and other goods, is powerless to immunize the United States from the conflict, Borah proved that the repeal of the arms embargo is nevertheless an act of

The AFL convention is facing an unusual resolution on the war question which was submitted to it by the executive

Besides the ordinary provisions about "we stand for neutrality, democracy, keep America safe and out of European wars," (which are a poor substitute for adopting a Let the People Vote on War slogan) the convention is being asked to call on the United States government to mediate in the second world war!

This section was introduced by William Green, president of the AFL. Who inspired him to introduce it? Since we know through Green's long history as a labor faker that he is an agent of American capitalism, we are inclined to doubt the theory

Did Roosevelt ask his good friend Bill to bring this matter before the AFL convention?
And if so, why? Does Roosevelt want to be "forced" to try a mediation of the war which would not "succeed." Which would mean America would have to go to war to "make peace possible?" The next few days will tell.

This week I should like to develop a little further the theme of my last column: that modern war is so vast a social undertaking and the capitalism it expresses is by now so closely integrated with the bourgeois state, as to make it impossible for oldstyle "private enterprise" either to fight a war or even to meet the problems of neutrality. By DWIGHT MACDONALD -

The Roosevelt Administration is as much the instrument of the big bourgeoisie as was that of Woodrow Wilson. Even more which would still not solve the so, indeed, since in the last two decades there has taken place a gradual coalescence of big business and the government. This means that the relationship of Wall Street and Washington in this Louis area is faced with one of war is far more subtle and complicated than it was in the last the most serious relief crises in war. It is not enough to perceive the basic fact that the country is being dragged into a second world slaughter in the interests of American capitalism. We must also understand just how this is being done this time. We must be aware of certain differences in technique which in turn reflect twenty-five years of development of our monopoly capitalism.

The other day the U.S. Chamber of Commerce reported to its members on the outlook for foreign trade. This report was a sermon in caution and scepticism, warning that war booms produce bad economic hangovers, and advising its members against "over-confidence." This tone of moderation and wariness is characteristic these days of the whole financial press. On the other hand, the President whips up the war spirit with everincreasing abandon, the current climax being his personal announcement—such dirty jobs are usually left to minor officials that submarines "of unknown nationality" had been sighted off our coast. The Morgan Myth

There is a widespread illusion, sometimes to be found even in the pages of the Appeal, that J. P. Morgan & Co. is playing exactly the same role in maneuvering America into this war it did in the last. This emphasis does not correspond with the

When the last world war hit the American economic system, no governmental measures whatever had been taken to cope with it. The financial community was hastily mobilized by the Governors of the N.Y. Stock Exchange and by the leading Wall Street bankers, headed by Mr. Morgan. But this mobilization was insufficient. The impact of war abroad and the hasty selling of large blocks of American securities by foreign holders, these caused a temporary financial panic. The Stock Exchange had to be closed for several months. There was an industrial slump before the Allies began to buy over here in big quantities.

NEGRO QUESTION

By J. R. JOHNSON.

The place of the Negro is in the very vanguard of the revolutionary movement for socialism. That is the major theoretical contribution which the Fourth International and the Socialist Workers Party have made towards a clear and precise understanding of the role of the Negro in the solution of the difficulties now facing humanity.

Whereas even the Communist Party in its revolutionary days saw the Negroes essentially as an appendage, however valuable to the revolutionary movement, we on the other hand, see the Negroes as foremost among those who will struggle against the crimes and barbarities of the capitalist system. The reason for this lies in the very nature of the Negro's position in capitalist society. The most exploited, the most oppressed, the most discriminated against, Negroes are the ones who experience most acutely and most unbearably the overwhelming burdens which capitalism places upon the masses in every country. Negroes haven't to read in books about the fraud of capitalist democracy. Karl Marx and Lenin have little to teach them about the fact.

Prejudices Must Be Overcome

This conception of the role of the Negro has hitherto been obscured by the racial prejudices instilled into the different sections of the working class by American capitalism. The revolutionary party therefore is faced with the tremendous difficulty of overcoming this division. Yet difficult as this task is, it is a difficulty of tactics and not of strategy. The important question is not so much that of winning the Negroes for the revolution, but of instilling the Negro masses with the conviction that they can place their trust and confidence in a revolutionary party composed largely of white workers, as is inevitable in American society. That task successfully accomplished, the Fourth International is confident that the large masses of the Negroes will fight against imperialism of all kinds with a bravery and endurance that will be surpassed by no other section of the population.

Such a generalization, of such profound importance for the American revolution, and the world revolution as a whole, is best tested by the reaction of Negroes to great events such as for instance the present war. Anyone who has contacts of any kind with Negroes will know that they have been profoundly stirred by the outbreak of war in Europe. In a series of articles in this column, we shall examine the attitude to the war taken by various groups of Negroes. This attitude is in many respects confused and in some dangerous. What has been most striking, however, is that of all political and social groups in America, they have been the least bamboozled by the thesis that the imperialist war is a war for democracy against fascism. From the harsh experiences of their own lives and their knowledge of the exploitation and indignities endured by their brothers in Africa, they see the realities of the imperialist conflict much more clearly than many other sections of the American workers who are better organized and have more education and experience in the day to day politics of America. What is true of the American Negro is also true of Negroes everywhere.

A general mass sentiment of this kind inevitably produces at one stage or another some political organization, some political expression which points the road by which the confused but revolutionary instincts of great masses can be transformed into effective political reality. Such an organization already exists in the Fourth International and its sections in America, Great Britain, Africa, etc. The Fourth International, in its call for the revolutionary struggle against imperialism, expresses the aspirations and shows the future road for all the workers, white, Negroe, Indian, whatever color, whatever race, whatever creed.

Int'l African Service Bureau

But there are Negroes, not affiliated to the Fourth International, who have arrived at a political position which places them side by side with the Fourth International on the war question. They are conscious that nothing but the revolutionary overthrow of capitalism can give any final solution to the permanent burdens, and additional sufferings placed upon Negroes everywhere by the imperialist war. In Great Britain, an organ- War is the lack of certainty about the most powerful factor ization of Negroes known as the International African Service Bureau, during the last few years has carried on a wide propaganda for African independence and Negro emancipation. Of a low level of wages? Of an efficient blacklisting These Negroes have seen that the colonial masses of the East are allies of the Negro and contacts have been made with organizations in India and in Ceylon. The work of the bureau has been might interrupt the lucrative harvest of war profits? And assisted by various industrial and political organizations of the above all, will the nightmare that preys upon the mind of how vital to their own emancipation is the emancipation of the Negro people all over the world. In the crisis over Czechoslovakia, the Bureau issued a call to the Africans and to the British workers, to fight in unity against the imperialist lie of "war for democracy." And with the approach of this war, the Bureau issued another manifesto, "A Warning to the Colonial Peoples" ing a struggle without complete confidence in itself is beatwhich is published in another column. The manifesto calls upon en before the battle starts. Big Business as the leading secthe colonial masses in Africa, in India, in Burma in Ceylon, to tion of the capitalist class wishes to impress every capitalist struggle against the war-mongers both fascist and "democratic." It appeals to the British workers to do the same against with a sense of its authority, strength, and complete awarethe common enemy-imperialism

Struggle against War Is International

This manifesto is of enormous importance, and must be closely studied and assimilated by all the workers in America, Negro and white. The Negroes in particular must realize that it is their duty to follow the lead so clearly and courageously given by a group of their brothers operating in Great Britain, the heart of the British Empire and of world imperialist reaction. Today the struggle against war is international and the Bureau manifesto has appealed not only to Negroes but to all workers, in the colonies and in Europe. It is impossible to have an equivocal position on war. One must be either with the imperialists and for the war, or against the imperialists and against the continuance of their system which inevitably breeds war. The manifesto says clearly and simply: Colonials and white workers, op pose the war.

It is of great significance that this manifesto comes into our hands just at the moment that our series of aricles on the Negro and War in this column of the Socialist Appeal have come to a conclusion. That series will be republished in a few days as a pamphlet of 32 pages under the title of "Why Negroes an Administrator of Labor appointed by and directly re-Should Oppose the War". Negroes of all shades of political opinion must study this pamphlet carefully, compare it with the manifesto issued by the International African Service Bureau, and realize how the consciousness of oppression and an insight migrations of labor; the prevention of unethical competiinto the mechanism of modern society lead inevitably to the one conclusion: that all the workers, of whatever race, must unite in revolutionary struggle against the imperialist war-mongers whether fascist or "democratic". The pamphlet "Why Negroes ments from the draft of individuals required for efficient Should Oppose the War" and the manifesto "A Warning to the Colonial Peoples" are events of major importance in the political crystallization of the Negro instinct for revolutionary struggle

Bosses Get Inside Tip on Labor Control

By JOSEPH HANSEN ARTICLE IV

The greatest worry confronting the individual capitalist t the brink of American participation in the second World involved in both prosecuting the war and in producing the

Will each capitalist be assured of an adequate labor sup slaughter as it did the last one?

Big Business wishes to allay the fears of the capitalist class as it plunges the country into war-any group enterness that the real enemy from their point of view is the working class here in the United States.

Tightening Grip on Government

In the most authoritative tones, Big Business is tightening its grip as ruler and informing all factions of the capitalist class that it has prepared for the labor factor with detailed blue prints drawn up by the best brains that could be purchased on the market.

Stifling of the labor movement, suppression of all civil iberties is assured—this is the inside tip passed out by Big Business through the confidential bulletin issued by the Tax Research Institute. Forget your fears about labor. The road is clear for WAR PROFITS; open up the throttle!

"Labor: The assurance to industry of an adequate labor supply, both in numbers and by occupational qualification, will require the organization of a labor administration with sponsible to the President. Among the more important problems to be considered are the minimizing of excessive tion for labor by war industries; compilation, for the information of the President, of lists of industrial deferoperations of war industries; the avoidance and settlement of labor problems; and the coordination of employment

Guaranteeing War-Time Profits

This paragraph is one of the most important in the whole bulletin from the viewpoint of labor. It reveals exactly what is in store for the working man upon the entry of the United States into the war:

(1) "Assurance of . . . adequate labor supply." Wall Street cannot be assured of its profits if there are not enough hands to keep up with the war expansion of its machine and factories and to turn out the necessary goods, or if the labor supply becomes so scarce that the demand for it acts to raise wages and so cut into profits.

(2) "Administrator of Labor appointed. . . ." Like Fascist Italy and Nazi Germany, the trade unions must become government-controlled, regimented in order not to disrupt the steady flow of profits into Wall Street's vaults.

(3) "Minimizing of excessive migrations of labor. . . . Again like Fascist Italy and Nazi Germany, laws will be passed preventing a working man from leaving his job to go to another one at a higher rate of pay. Mussolini and Hitler require a labor passport for every working man in order to enforce this provision, the passport being held by the employer. Without the passport a man cannot get a job. Roosevelt may extend the use of a fink book such as the one he attempted to foist on the seamen, or he may use the Social Security card, the possession of which is already required in order to obtain a job.

(4) "Prevention of unethical competition of labor. . . ." If one industry sees a chance to make greater profits by a sudden expansion and in order to obtain the necessary manpower offers lucrative wages, this would be considered "unethical*" and the military dictatorship would cancel these higher wages in favor of the lower level.

Blacklist Arranged for

(5) "Compilation . . . of lists . . . of individuals required for efficient operations. . . ." This is nothing less than a blacklist. If the colonels and Wall Street henchmen at the head of the military dictatorship decide a given individual is not "efficient" he may be shipped to the front in order to help "make the world safe for democracy" by dying on a bayonet, or he may be simply jailed for the duration of the war.

(6) "Avoidance and settlement of labor problems. . . ." Wall Street will decide such questions as hours, wages, and working conditions and whether or not a man may be permitted to belong to a union. Violations of Wall Street's decisions will receive the appropriate punishment at the hands of the Wall Street henchman who head the military dicta-

(7) "Coordination of employment services. . . ." This means the end of union control of hiring and even the end of separate employment agencies. All hiring, all black-listing will be done through one Wall-Street-controlled agency. This agency will extend its tentacles across the whole nation and strangle the labor movement in its grasp.

Methods of "Controlling" Labor

The confidential bulletin describes the concrete methods that will be used against labor in the following section:

"The Labor Controls to Be Used

"One of the major problems the War Labor Administration must face is the one which caused greatest dissatisfaction during the World War on all sides-labor migration.

"T.R.I. Observation: Solution of the labor problem, particularly that of migration, may be attempted by the use of four means. These are:

"(1) Control of the cost of living and the keying of the real wages to that of living cost for all workers. [Just as W.P.A. wages in the North have been slashed to correspond to a slight raise in the South.—J.H.]

"(2) A single unified employment service for prevention of competition for labor. [Competition for labor would tend to raise wages.—J.H.]

"(3) The development of public opinion. [That is, flooding the public with skillful propaganda fed through the press, the pulpit, the radio, whispering campaigns, etc.

"(4) Compulsory arbitration of disputes after all means of conciliation and mediation have been exhausted. [The old system of the boss sitting tight, mediators lying to workers, and then cracking down with National Guard .-

"The methods which will be used to cope with the labor problem will involve direct and indirect contact and cooperation with other government agencies. [Labor spies, police, propaganda department, social security department, labor administration will all work together.-J.H.] Thus, the division entrusted with the labor problem, the War Labor Administration, will:

"(a) Foresee and forestall, wherever possible, and in other cases take prompt action, to adjust labor difficulties in industrial facilities producing the Army's requirements.

"(b) Maintain liaison with any interested Federal and state labor agencies in order to advise them of the labor needs of facilities producing Army requirements.

"(c) Maintain close liason with the Director of Selective Service and with industrial management in order to insure the deferments of such workmen as are vitally essential to the munitions producing program.

"(d) Maintain liaison with national labor organizations and with agencies having to do with labor welfare."

Sixty Families Fear Labor

This entire plan to regiment labor under the bayonet, from the viewpoint of the Big Busness men sitting in luxurious Wall Street office suites look foolproof. But the very detailed minuteness of these blue prints shows that there is a profound basis for the fears of the capitalist class.

It is one thing to draw up complicated blueprints with which to straitjacket and slaughter the tens of millions who constitute the working population of the country. But these prints have an entirely different color when it comes to imposing them successfully.

One thing is absolutely certain: when the working population of the United States understands as a whole that the Wall Street dictatorship is composed of only a handful of men whose numbers are in inverse proportion to their wealth and greed, and when the working population understands that this war is being conducted for nothing but the insurance of capitalist profits, they will rise in consuming wrath and wipe capitalism from the face of the earth, blueprints, greed, military dictatorship and all.

In place of capitalist minority rule, they will construct socialism, and through socialism the working man will gain peace, decent living conditions, and a new era that will relegate war to the museum beside the dusty bones of the dinosaur and the capitalist.

Danger Signal

The Dies Committee, operating with the aid of Federal agents, has raided the offices of the Communist Party in Chicago, and of several other organizations which are not named in the newspaper accounts.

The attitude of every revolutionary worker, of every honest progressive worker, for that matter, towards the Stalinists, is pretty well known. We consider Stalinism a poisonous influence in the labor movement and we have not been in the last ranks of the struggle to eliminate that influence. But everyone who is concerned with the interests of the working class, and who reflects seriously on the problem, will share our position on the Dies Committee attack upon the Stalinist party.

In our fight against Stalin, Browder & Co., we not only proceed from certain unshakeable principles, but we are very careful-doubly careful nowadays, in the conditions of the war crisis —about WHO it is that is fighting the Stalinists and what AIMS he pursues in the fight.

In our fight against Hitlerism, we are not prepared to turn to the imperialist murderers of the "democracies" for leadership and cooperation. Similarly, in our fight against Stalinism, we are not prepared to turn to the labor-hating, red-baiting gang of Bourbons who guide and run the Dies Committee. Reaction, whatever it may seem to be doing at a given moment, cannot and does not serve the interests of progress.

Only shortsighted people, fools and scoundrels can take any comfort in the thought that "regardless of his real aims," Dies is striking a blow at Stalinism. Only turncoats without principles or scruples-people like Ben Gitlow and Joseph Zack-can cooperate with outfits run by Dies. For our part, we condemn the Chicago raids with all our strength, just as we condemn the whole conception and course and aims of the Dies Committee.

The raids, like the rest of the Dies Committee's activities, are part and parcel of a national anti-labor and pro-war movement. Today it is the Stalinists who are the victims of the government at whose heels they trotted for many years and which they have not yet really abandoned. Tomorrow, on much the same pretext, Dies and Murpny and the whole governmental machinery will be swung into action against all labor and militant elements who refuse to come to heel under the orders of the war dictatorship.

Unless the labor movement promptly takes measures to put a stop to the activities of the Dies Committee, it will find tomorrow that the Dies Committee will have taken the measures needed to put a stop to the labor movement.

J. P. Morgan has turned over his Scottish estate to the British government as a war hospital. Well, he should; he helps get 'em shot.

Green's Speech

The opening address of President William Green at the Cincinnati convention of the American Federation of Labor puts him as squarely behind the War Deal government in Washington as Roosevelt would desire. The leadership in the movement to drag the United States into the Second World War is in the hands of Roosevelt. He has made no bones about the fact that he has already decided which camp in the war he favors. The new "neutrality" legislation proposed by him is calculated to bring the country two or three steps closer to the "democratic" empires in the war than did the present "neutrality" legislation he sponsored in its time.

The fight to keep the United States out of the war is primarily a fight against the Roosevelt regime. That fight cannot be led by any other force than the independent labor movementindependent from all capitalist parties, capitalist politicians and capitalist governments. Only such independence can make the anti-war fight a Green, however, true labor lieutenant of capitalism, uses the occasion of the AFL convention to endorse Roosevelt, to cover up his hypocritical "peace" assurances, to get behind his war program, the program of armaments expansion included. All he asks is that he be "fully represented on any and all government boards engaged in preparing plans for industrial mobilization. . . " His only beef is, you see, that he hasn't been given enough recognition as part of the war machine.

How illusory, in the light of this, is the hope expressed by many workers that the Greens and the Lewises are going to stand up against the capitalist war-mongers—an illusion expressed only recently at the Duluth convention of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor which, in its anti-war resolution, mistakenly hailed William Green as an opponent of the war.

Green and Lewis and their similars in the trade union bureaucracy can no more be relied upon to fight war than can Roosevelt. They are the agents or servants of the war-mongers.

In Washington, D.C., the wage-hour administration granted the lumber industry in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota partial exemption from the fair labor standards act for the spring freshet driving. This will permit employment of workers for as much as 56 hours a week for 14 weeks without paying overtime. Ordinarily, overtime is paid after 44 hours a week. The administration also granted exemption to the sugar beet industry, affecting thousands of sugar beet workers. It's strange, but it looks like the workers who most need this act, with its minimum wage of two bits an hour, are the very ones who are always being

Thomas vs. Browder

Norman Thomas has worked himself up in more than one speech and article during the past few weeks against the Hitler-Stalin pact and in particular against its defense by Earl Browder.

In the past, Thomas often condemned Browder and Co. for pursuing a pro-war policy in this country calculated to bring the United States into the camp of the "democratic" imperialist pirates with whom Stalin was allied or hoping to be allied. Now, and not without justice, Thomas condemns the new line of Browder, which is calculated to alter the position of American capitalism in such a way as to facilitate the work of the fascist imperialist pirates with whom Stalin is at present allied.

Yet the position that Thomas has taken towards Stalin and the Soviet Union place him essentially on the same plane as Browder. As Chairman of the Socialist Party, Thomas has called upon President Roosevelt "that the arms embargo against belligerent powers in Europe be extended to include Stalin's government."

Thomas and Browder are on the same political plane because both of them take an essentially pro-war position and because both of them call upon capitalist governments to fulfill their Browder, up to yesterday, wanted the Roosevelt government to save Stalin from Hitler by plunging the United States into an imperialist war on the side of the "democracies." Browder now wants the Roosevelt government to help Stalin by keeping hands off Hitler and refraining from taking sides with England and France because-Browder has discovered this now that the Hitler-Stalin pact is in force—the war is imperialistic. At bottom, Browder, in the interests of his paymaster, wants to sub-contract the job of the working class to the imperialist governments, or to one of them.

Thomas too has no faith in the working class and in its ability to act as an independent and decisive force in society. He is opposed to Stalin. But he calls upon the American imperialist government to do the job of crushing or "stopping" Stalinism. At bottom, he also wants to turn over the task of the working class to a sub-contractor.

Imperialism and imperialist war are a plague. Stalinism is a poison. But neither one of them can be combatted by subjugating the working class, intellectually, physically and politically, to a capitalist government.

With all their differences and disputes, that is precisely what Browder and Thomas, each in his own way, are trying to do.

USING SPIES

It was to place the issue squarely before his wavering axis-partner that Hitler summoned Ciano to Berlin. It is not difficult to guess that Hitler was offering his pompous, frightened ally in the Palazzo Venezia his last chance to get in on the Balkan ground flood before Stalin occupies it all.

It is now the favorite pastime of Anglo-French statesmen and heir journalistic echoes to gamble on the early break-up of the new Moscow-Berlin axis. Even Winston Churchill did his part in his radio speech to throw a little oil on the fire he fondly hopes is burning under the camp of his adversaries. Russia is not really helping Hitler so much as helping itself and in the process is barring the Nazi drive from southeastern Europe, according to this theory. This is true enough, up to a certain point. But those who calculate that for this reason Stalin and Hitler will oblige Britain and France by flying prematurely at each other's throats are doomed to sorry disappointment

For Stalin right now it is of the essence that Hitler remain capable of draining the strength of the Western powers in an exhausting war.

For both, their self-preservation is wrapped up in continuing for the present along the paths they have chosen. What awaits them around the next bend, however, neither of them really knows.

A Warning to The People of The Colonies

(For additional material on this manifesto see the column on the Negro Question on page 3.) To the oppressed and exploited masses of the British Empire, and all peoples under the heel of Imperialism throughout the world: You, the most oppressed and exploited, will soon be called upon to take part in a war which threatens the slaughter of millions of men, women and children. Ruin, misery and devastation unparalleled in history endanger humanity. Yet at the conclusion of the war the mass of the people will still remain in their present condition of abject poverty. War is no solution for their problems.

Even if agreement is reached between the rival Imperialisms, it will only delay for a short period the threatening conflict. The next issue will be the Colonial Question

The Truth About the War

We are told that the war will be fought to save Poland from Hitler. This is a lie! If a battle is waged it will be to prevent Hitler from overrunning Europe and stealing "their" colonies

This is the truth that they dare not tell! If these democratic nations are so concerned with defending smaller nations against aggression, why did they stand aside and allow Mussolini to attack the defenseless Abyssinian people after having promised them assistance? It is to mislead you that our Imperialist masters are asking you to join up and fight for Democracy against Fascism.

DEMOCRACY! What do you know of democracy in the Empire? In 1914 they called on the masses in the Mother Country and in the Empire to fight for Democracy and self-determination. Millions died on Flanders' Field, in Palestine, in East, West and South Africa. For what? More slavery, more oppression, more exploitation

No "Rights" Under Imperialism

You in the Empire! What rights, what liberties. what democracy have you in the "glorious" Empires of Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Portugal, etc.? They have robbed the masses of their land and broken up their civilisation. They segregate you in your own country, pen you in reserves and locations like cattle, make you carry passes like common criminals, and then pay you starvation wages. In the West Indies you are still denied the most elementary rights of human beings. You asked for bread, and they gave you

The colonial masses in war, as in peace, can have only one aim, one goal-INDEPENDENCE. And we summon you in whatever country-India, Ceylon, Burma, Palestine, Africa-all people who fight for this end, to unite against the warmongers. both Democratic and Fascist, and all those who at this hour pledge in your name your lives in defense of the Imperialists. They do not represent the real aspirations of the colonial peoples struggling for liberty. Be vigilant and watch the traitors in your own ranks Unite in the Common Struggle

We denounce the whole gang of European robbers and enslavers of the colonial peoples-German Nazis, Italian Fascists, French, British, Belgian and Dutch democrats - all are the same IMPERIALIST BANDITS whose common aim is the enslavement of humanity throughout the world.

To the workers of Britain we appeal also. You must unite in the struggle of the colonial peoples against the common enemy, who is in your own country. To white and black the solution is the same: Organize and be ready to seize the opporunity to overthrow the enemy

Hear Cannon on the Causes of Imperialist War

The first lecture in a series of four was delivered by James P. Cannon, National Secretary of the Socialist Workers Party last Friday at Irving Plaza. An alert and intensely interested audience of over two hundred and fifty workers heard Cannon outline the causes that gave rise to the first World War, the collapse of the anti-war pacifist movement, the betrayal of the "labor leaders" and the struggle to reconstitute a revolutionary international organization after the collapse of the Second International.

The audience, largely composed of the postwar generation of workers were particularly interested in the vivid picture Cannon gave of America's entry into the war in 1917. The instructive lesson of the complete betrayal of all those who "opposed" the war but refused to take a revolutionary anti-imperialist position was

Cutting through the fog of official history Cannon showed how the peace of 1918 was the direct outcome of the great revolutionary upheaval starting in Russia in February, 1917 sweeping across Europe and changing the entire course of modern history. The lecture was followed by a lively question

The next lecture will deal with the "Aftermath of the First World War - The Versailles Treaty." The division of the world among the victorious powers will be subjected to an analysis showing how it prepared the conditions for the second World War.

The New York Local of the SWP is sponsoring these lectures and invites all workers to attend this coming Fri. 8 p.m. in Irving Plaza, 15 Street and Irving Place. Admission 25c.
