NAACP Plans
Mass Conference
Against Jim Crow

By Lois Saunders

Los Angeles, July 17 — Total condemnation of the Bill of Rights Conference by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The NAACP, which has been widely reported as planning to stage a mass conference against Jim Crow, issued a statement here today saying that it had decided not to proceed with the conference as planned.

The NAACP statement said: "The NAACP has decided not to proceed with the mass conference against Jim Crow as planned. The NAACP has decided to continue its work in the struggle for civil rights through its regular channels."

Steel Strike Called Off

By Bert Cochran

The steel strike was called off by the American Federation of Labor and the United Auto Workers yesterday. The two unions had set strike deadlines of July 26 and July 27, respectively. The strike was called off after the two unions reached agreement on a new contract that includes wage increases and improved working conditions.

Gorkin has made the astonishing claim that he is able to produce evidence against the GPU assassin. However, he has not been able to produce any evidence despite the fact that he has been given a year to do so. This is a clear example of how the GPU assassin has been able to evade accountability.

Brass Hats Refuse to Change Segregation Policy in Army

By Albert Parker

The Army refused to implement the Jim Crow segregation policy toward Negro soldiers in any way, and within a few days it was reported that the President’s Party Committee, which was under the leadership of President Truman, had failed to support this policy in any way. According to the committee, the President’s Party Committee had been unable to draft any new legislation to counter the current policy of the U.S. Army.

The dispute arose when the President’s Party Committee proposed a new policy to grant Negro soldiers full military status in all areas of the Army. This proposal was supported by the President, but the Army’s leadership opposed it. The dispute resulted in the Army’s refusal to implement any changes to the current policy.

The President’s Party Committee had been unable to find a way to overcome the Army’s opposition. As a result, the committee was unable to draft any new legislation to support the current policy.

The Army’s refusal to implement the new policy was seen as a clear indication of its commitment to maintaining the Jim Crow segregation policy. The committee was unable to find a way to overcome the Army’s opposition, and the dispute continued.
