1930's and early 1940's. But this was old stuff, and has been probed and re-probed many times, always ending with Oppenheimer's clearance.

Since none of his old-time associations prevented him from serving the government well and faithfully, some new reasons for retting rid of him had to be found before McCarthy began using him to attack Eisenhower. These new reasons were duly discovered in (1) Oppenheimer's attitude toward the building of the H-bomb, and (2) his attitude toward the government's witch hunt.

In both cases, the board adopted typically McCarthyite standards of judgment.

(1) Along with "other com petent and devoted individuals both in and out of the governman not to try to build the Hbomb in 1949, After Truman decided it should be built, Oppenand cooperated in its building.

Knowland's "Communist Blueprint"

Last April 14 Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland inserted into the Congressional Record a document which he inferred was a "Communist blueprint for the conquest of the world by 1973," as a later United Press dispatch described it. It was, he claimed, an ultra-secret document sent to Moscow by Mao Tse-tung, Chinese Communist Party leader. Knowland had had the document in his possession for six months before taking the bold step of making it public.

Knowland offered no evidence as to the document's authenticity. He refused to say how it was obtained. And the press, usually ready to seize on anti-"Communist" tidbits of this character, made no reference to it until June I and then all but the most irresponsible newspapers gave it gingerly inside-page treatment. This purported "Communist blueprint of world conquest" had such a fishy smell that even the insensitive noses of the capitalist editors had to be held a bit aloof from it.

Nevertheless, the document has a certain interest and value. It was put forth by Knowland as "proof" of the charges that the American rulers have been making about the "threat" represented by Soviet Russia and China. Let us assume, therefore, for the sake of argument, that the document is not a crude forgery. What does it really show about this "threat" of Moscow and Peking?

The central point of the document is that World War III must be avoided at all cost and that the United States, as the center of world capitalism, would ultimately go into economic collapse. In short, this is a "blueprint" for stalling off war and allowing capitalism to die of its own inner disintegration.

Thus, the document proposes to establish an Asian military force of 25 million men in order to "force the capitalist countries to keep on increasing defense expenses until economic collapse overtakes them." The document does not tell how the Asian countries would support for an indefinite period 25 million troops without economic disaster. But that an American Senator could put forward such a document shows that he takes seriously the idea that in any long-term competition, involving a severe military-economic load, American capitalism would be first to collapse.

There is not a line in the document about any kind of military assault by the USSR and the présent democratic capitalist guard Negro rights. The 14th China. On the contrary, it envisages winning system. over the Asian and African countries to the side of the Soviet Union and China, after which "a total economic collapse of western shows that "American democracy Europe" would follow. Then, in turn, the works for Negroes," a number United States would suffer "crushing economic collapse and industrial breakdown.".

. No wonder the capitalist press was reluctant to make much of a play about this document. It completely disproves the line of propaganda ously? In the same way it works handed out by the warmongers in Washington that the Soviet Union and China are threaten- 86 YEARS ing the world and the U.S. in any military The 14th Amendment to the sense. It was supposed and collapse; that in any contest based on the to safeguard equal rights for the operations of their respective economic systems - private profit in this country and nationalized property and planned economy in the Soviet sphere - capitalism will suffer defeat ism, was ratified in 1868. It has and the non-capitalist property forms will now been part of the Constitution

But isn't it the boast of the American capitalists that "free enterprise" is the best of all possible economic systems and infinitely superior to planned economy and collective ownership of the means of production? If capitalism is so superior, why would the U.S. need to worry about the alleged Soviet "timetable" of progressive economic collapse for world capitalism? What this document proves is nothing more than the deep fear of the capitalists themselves that their system cannot stand up to the test of time and that they hope to keep their domination only by means of

Bunche and the Informers

Ralph Bunche, director of the United Nations Trüsteeship Division, has been cleared of "disloyalty" by a U.S. board investigating all-American employees of the UN. His clearance is being hailed by his friends as a vindication of both Bunche and American democracy.

We're glad to see Bunche escape the axe of witch hunters who were out to get him because he dared during the 1930's to join organiations that were later arbitrarily placed on the Attorney General's "subversive" list.

But we can't work up any enthusiasm about the quality of American democracy. One swallow doesn't make a summer, and one victim's escape doesn't signify any change in the witch hunt.

And we can't feel too much optimism about Bunche's future. True, he has been cleared. But only once. That doesn't prove a thing. Other victims of the witch hunt were cleared two, four, even eight times before the axe caught up with them. It's only the last time that counts, as many men and women with wrecked careers can testify. A shadow hangs over Bunche, and it will remain there until the witch bunt is wiped out from top to bottom and restitution is made to all its victims.

Meanwhile, what happens to Manning R. Johnson and Leonard Patterson, the two ex-Stalinist professional informers who put the finger on Bunche and testified against him?

The "loyalty" board that cleared Bunche ruled in effect that Johnson and Patterson lied about him. Are they going to be indicted for perjury and punished for their crimes? Unless they are, there is every reason to expect that they will get another, and perhaps more successful, chance against Bunche.

And what about Paul Crouch, another informer who makes his living supplying "evidence" against anybody the witch hunters are out to indict and convict, and who will apparently swear to anything just so long as he gets paid for it?

the West Coast in 1949 that he did not know ... INCITE WAT Drive David Davis. He went to Philadelphia this year with a new story. This time he claimed he knew Davis, defendant in a current Smith Act trial, and he swore to things Davis had said and done in his presence, etc.

There are scores of these professional stoolpigeons - human vermin who will "remember" anything if the price is right. Decent people wouldn't touch them with a ten-mile pole. But ment cannot accept any claim the U.S government regards them as front-line defenders and exponents of "the American way of life," pays them well out of taxpayers' money and protects them when they get caught committing perjury and other crimes. (The Department of Justice urged Crouch to make himself scarce after the Alsop brothers brought his perjury to light.)

The people who ought to be jailed or fired first order of business a U.S. from their jobs are not radicals, liberals and others who have exercised their rights of free speech and association, but these stoolpigeons and the "respectable" people who hire and protect them.

The Real Lesson of Germany

In recent months labor officials and liberals have begun to refer to the fesson of Hitler's rise to power in Germany. But unfortunately the American labor officials don't understand this lesson.

Take for example the remarks of Sol Stetin, New Jersey regional director of the CIO Textile Workers Union, in a letter to Bishop Bernard J. Sheil. (May issue, N. J. CIO News.)

America are trying to use McCarthy and Mc-Carthyism just like German Big Business groups tried to use Hitler and Hitlerism: "They felt Hitler would keep the liberals, the Socialists and the trade unions in check and too late they realized the danger they had helped to create when he became all powerful."

In this brief passage Stetin voices typical fallacies, illusions and evasions of the American labor officials. He is under the mistaken impression that German Big Business "regretted" using Hitler when he became "all powerful." This is false.

When Hitler smashed the German labor movement Big Business was overjoyed. That's why they had supported him. When he murdered millions of Jews, Socialists, Communists and trade unionists, they cheered. When he launched his blitz to conquer Europe, they were with him 100%.

But when Hitler's armies ran into the revolutionary heroism of the Soviet people, who despite the Stalinist bureaucracy fought fascism with the courage of a people who had accomplished a socialist revolution and would defend the conquests of that revolution to the death; and when Hitler's empire began to much right to buy arms where in shipping arms to Guatemala, nationalization of the tin comshake and crumble as a result of his defeats in it pleased - particularly since it "is a piece of mischief, not a Russia, then and only then did the German to Guatemala — as the U.S. has capitalists become disillusioned with Hitler.

Stetin cannot answer the simple question: What were the liberals and labor officials doing in Germany while Hitler was rising to power? Because if he did answer this question it would ludicrous. But it is the best read: They were doing exactly what Stetin excuse the State Department Howard newspapers. It reports arms purchase "appears to have and the other labor leaders are doing in the could think up for its attack on that "those who know the situa- boomeranged" and "has achieved, United States right now. The Eisenhower administration has also demanded that French imperialism grant "independence" to the French puppet regime of Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia. The American people must raise their voice against these bloody plans if countless American lives are not to be destroyed. They must demand that no more men and no more war material be sent to Indo-China, that all Minh government be recognized.

U.S. imperialism has been bolwo weeks unless the Soviet, stered in its preparations for China in return for a Soviet-French agreement opposing German rearmament. The Stalinist cessively offered a coalition government within the French Union for Indo-China and now have acceded to partition.

In France, the powerful Stalinist party has failed to open up a political offensive against the Laniel government around the "Withdraw the troops slogan from Indo-China." Such a conwith a call for a united front of to struggle for a workers government, might have become the basis for a renewed labor offensive in France. Together with the great victory scored by the heroic freedom fighters at Dien - Bien-Phu, it could have toppled the Laniel government and forced a speedy conclusion to the Indo-Chinese war on terms most favorable to the Indo-Chinese people.

But a line of class struggle is opposed to the dictates of the Kremlin's reactionary foreign poicy, which binds the French Stalinist leaders to support of French capitalism. Without the pressure of the French working class mobilized against it, the Laniel government has been able to stay in office in turn has allowed U.S. imconspiracy against the Indo-Chinese revolution.

THE KINGS OF THE ROAD by Ken W. Purdy, with 24 illustrations. Bantam Books, 50 cents.

This is a book about famous cars and the men who built them as well as about today's cars and the way they are advertised. I found it original, colorful and instructive. Purdy makes us understand how big monopolist firms, like General Motors, have actually reduced the quality of American cars (although he does not discuss economics). Twenty years ago buyers could choose between different types of automobiles; today practically all American autos look alike. There is hardly any room left for individual taste, and these cars, with their clumsy, impractical forms and overloads of chromium, are far from beautiful.

But what about performance and comfort? Haven't important inventions been made in the Detroit laboratories? Aren't American cars the best in the world and relatively inexpensive?

Purdy's answers to these questions are extremely interesting. He explains that most of the "stunning new inventions" and improvements the publicity boys talk about in their glowing prose are in fact 20 and 30 years old and were used in the best European cars at that time. (And he should know, for he is a collector and student of quality automobiles.)

As for performance, most of today's American cars are not sufficiently light, supple or safe. Five hundred pounds heavier than they ought to be, they certainly are not safer on the road than the smaller European cars; they use much more gas, oil and rubber; and they are more difficult to park in our overcrowded cities.

"The bigness of American automobiles has been obtained at the expense of quality," Purdy charges. Balance has been impaired because the car's body has been thrown out over the ends of the chassis: "To offset this the useful cargo weight has been moved closer to the center with no real net gain from the increased size of the automobile. . . Many a million dollar's worth of advertising has beat Ben Probe, of considerable amplitude."

Aren't the American monopolists capable, at least, of selling their product more cheaply than European manufacturers? It is true that Henry Ford's mass production method made possible a sharp reduction in prices. Yet the American public of 1954 does not get its money's worth.

European quality cars that are greatly superior to most American cars - the Italian Alfa-Romeo, for example - are exensive only because they are made for a limited market. A car of similar quality could be mass-produced in the U.S. to sell at current American rates. In other words: Detroit could make much tional better cars if the leading automobile concerns before he was stricken, he was wanted to - and without increasing prices. (And a nationalized industry without private profits could, of course, sell a line of good cars visit Detroit-this week. more cheaply than the big monopolies.)

The American who buys a new car is cheated by Detroit's slick publicity. "American automotive engineers . . . know what's been thought up across the street and they can do Michigan CIO Council from 1941 it just as well, and a lot cheaper. ### AGAINST BIG ODDS

The federal, state and city governments went all-out in support of the AFL; the metropolitan press and every anti-labor force endorsed the AFL as the 'desirable" union. The AFL leaders in turn gave their support to the state-imposed regimentation of the waterfront. They also promptly picked up the cue given Attorney General Brownell and labeled the ILA as "subversive" because of donations it got from some rank and file members of the West Coast dockers union. AFL leaders David Beck and Paul Hall, greedy for increased power and revenue, took a long step toward surrender to state control.

Having begun a fight against such powerful enemies, the ILA membership and leadership are driven by the logic of their struggle to initiate certain changes in their own policies. Last week, for example, the ILA leadership came out in blast against the Jim Crow practices of its AFL enemies, particularly those of Paul Hall's seamen's union. The ILA leadership now promises to change the rigid Jim Crow pattern which it has maintained for many years.

The mobsters and pistol-packing hoods, whose role was so marked inside the ILA, face growing opposition from the ranks of the ILA itself. The lockers have not held the ILA together at great sacrifice only n order to surrender it to these corrupt rotten elements. In promising a clean-up of the organization the ILA leaders are only recognizing the new climate in the ILA.

AFL SCABBING THREAT

Many obstacles still have to be overcome before the ILA can secure a contract that is now nine months overdue. The first state. ment of the top staff of the AFL raiders after their defeat all too clearly spells more trouble for New York's dockers. They warn that if the ILA strikes to get a contract, they will use every weapon to break the strike. This can only mean that the AFL is determined upon a guerrilla war against the ILA. They aim to so demoralize the dockers that a new election, which legally cannot be held for one year, will go to the AFL by default. The ILA now has the unique opportunity to take the offensive against the AFL by pushing aggressively for the realization of Lewis offered his support to its program and the fulfillment

It was little enough that the CIO should have only one candidate in the race instead of shooting for a labor majority of the Council seats.
