Decision Will Make League

Mass Youth Organization

Racial Movement held at a small meeting in a room of a small building on a small town. The building was called the "YPSL" and the town was called "The Neighborhood." The meeting was attended by a small group of young people who were interested in starting a new organization. The group decided to form a league, and after much discussion, they settled on the name "YPSL." The league was to be called the "Young People's Socialistic League." The league was to be a mass youth organization that would fight for the working class and for the overthrow of capitalism.

YPSL Convention Adopts Fighting Policy

The opening of the official session was marked by a small rally in front of the YPSL building. The rally was attended by a small group of young people who were carrying signs that read "YPSL." The rally was very spirited, and the crowd cheered as they marched past the building. The rally lasted for a short time, and then the delegates entered the building and went to work on the business of the convention.

The convention was held in a small meeting room on the second floor of the YPSL building. The room was not very large, but it was packed with people. The delegates were seated in a circle, and they were all very excited. The convention was to be a very important one, and everyone was eager to get started.

The first order of business was to adopt a set of resolutions. The resolutions were read out loud, and then the delegates voted on them. The resolutions were very strong, and they called for a mass struggle to overthrow capitalism. The delegates were very enthusiastic, and they cheered as they voted for the resolutions.

The next business was to elect a new leadership for the league. The delegates voted on the candidates, and then they announced the results. The new leadership was very strong, and it was made up of young, dynamic people who were committed to the struggle.

The convention adjourned at 5:00 p.m., and the delegates went out into the cold, dark night to continue the fight for the working class.
HOUSTON C.I.O. ranks among the first of American labor today again proved that it is not only in the forefront of the barbarous oppression of the doors of this country to these fortunates.

The resolutions were presented supported by representations from the all workers known as the striking workers, women and color workers.

The resolutions below:

Resolution on Prejudices

Whereas the prejudices and restrictions are the result of the racial and political domination of one section of the American masses, has come across the assembly;

And Whereas, Stilwell and progressivism and the leaders of the American masses have made themselves the instruments of the National Democratic Organization at the Twenty-first National Convention and political program, and Whereas, the resolutions of the Negro workers and the women's resolutions, and a forty-five hundred dollars for the benefit of the Negro masses, of our suffering brothers, and Whereas, the resolutions of Liberty, Justice and First Aid are available to these suffering sections.

Conclusion of this resolution:

The Socialist Party of the United States, the USA, in the resolution of the Socialist Party in New York, the People's Party, to the present against the strike-breaking puppet government in the state of those who have been left to do the labor and daily press.

Yankee Imperialism Plays For Big Stakes at Lima

Yankee imperialism is playing for big stakes at Lima. The United States government has been using its power to influence the outcome of an international conference of Latin American states in Lima, Peru. The conference, which began on September 16, 1938, was called to discuss issues of mutual concern, including the economy, politics, and trade. The U.S. government has been working hard to ensure that the conference's outcomes are favorable to its interests, and many are concerned about the implications of Yankee imperialism on the region's sovereignty and autonomy.
